

Washington State University Vancouver invites applications for a tenure-track position at the assistant professor level beginning 8/16/2012. Social Psychology candidates are sought with a preferred interest in health psychology. Position duties include teaching undergraduate/graduate courses, developing a strong research program and providing service to the university and profession.

Required qualifications: Ph.D. in Social Psychology or related field at the time of employment and demonstrated ability to (1) develop a program of research with reasonable likelihood to lead to extramural funding, (2) teach undergraduate/graduate courses in psychology, and (3) demonstrated ability to contribute to our diversity goals: incorporate issues of diversity (<http://admin.vancouver.wsu.edu/diversity>) into mentoring, curriculum, service and/or research.

Preferred qualifications: A program of research that will contribute to a developing emphasis in health psychology in the department.

WSU Vancouver serves 3000 graduate and undergraduate students and is fifteen miles north of Portland, Oregon, located on a beautiful campus that is close to both the Pacific coast and Cascade Mountains. The Vancouver campus is a young and vibrant academic community that values both research and teaching. WSU is Washington's land grant university with faculty and programs on four campuses. For more information: <http://www.vancouver.wsu.edu/>. WSU Vancouver is committed to building a culturally diverse educational environment.

Applications must include: (1) cover letter with a clear description of experience relevant to the required and preferred qualifications of the position; (2) vita with list of references; (3) three reference letters from people who can speak to your qualifications for the position; (4) representative manuscript samples (no more than three) and (5) maximum three-page total statement of research and teaching philosophy that addresses: (a) How your research will expand or complement the current research activities in Psychology (<http://directory.vancouver.wsu.edu/psychology>); (b) Courses that you have taught or are prepared to teach (undergraduate and graduate level) and new courses that you may propose to develop/teach; and (c) Your plans for working with diverse student and community populations to support our campus strategic plan: (<http://admin.vancouver.wsu.edu/office-chancellor/wsu-vancouver-strategic-plan>).

Application reviews will begin January 15, 2012 and will continue until the position is filled. To apply, visit www.wsujobs.com. Questions about the position may be directed to Dr. Art Blume, Chair, Search Committee, at art.blume@vancouver.wsu.edu or 360-546-9414. WSU is committed to excellence through diversity, has faculty friendly policies including a partner accommodation program, and a NSF ADVANCE Institutional Transformation grant (see <http://www.excelinse.wsu.edu/>). WSU employs only US citizens and lawfully authorized non-citizens.

WASHINGTON STATE UNIVERSITY IS AN EQUAL OPPORTUNITY/AFFIRMATIVE ACTION EDUCATOR AND EMPLOYER. Members of ethnic minorities, women, special disabled veterans, veterans of the Vietnam-era, recently separated veterans, and other protected veterans, persons of disability and/or persons age 40 and over are strongly encouraged to apply.
<http://admin.vancouver.wsu.edu.office-chancellor/wsu-vancouver-strategic-plan>