

PSYCHOLOGY 357

Registration Form for Undergraduate Research

PREREQUISITES: Psy 301 with a grade of at least a C, successful completion of 30 hours of coursework and the professor's consent and signature below.

The major purpose of this individual instruction course is to provide an opportunity for advanced and qualified undergraduates to obtain firsthand supervised research experience in psychology. The student will usually assist a professor with a research project by helping to prepare the study and by running subjects in the study. The student may work with a graduate student who is doing research supervised by a professor. The student should not expect to conduct an experiment of his/her own.

The student will be required to write a paper explaining his/her experience with the research project. The course grade will be determined by both research involvement and the paper. PSY 357 is offered on a Pass/Fail basis only. The student should expect a commitment of 6-10 hours per week in the Fall and Spring semesters and 15-20 hours per week in the Summer session.

PSY 357 may be repeated for credit. It will not count toward the 28 hours of psychology courses required for the psychology major, but may count as upper division elective hours toward the 120 hours required for the Liberal Arts B.A. degree.
